The Immrace Grand Sinud a Garden of Beauty-Between 20,000 and 25,000 Persons on the Grounds-Strocco Outrus a Fast Field, Including Lamplighter, in the Pourth of July Handlenp-Game Declare Takes the Independence Stakes-A Battie Royal for the Estontown Stakes, with Klikenny First by a Nose-Hamilton Wins with Peckeniff, Augusta Belle, and Ly. coum A Race for the Veteran Jockey Hayward-Jockey Midgley In Danger.

The largest throng by far that has ever been within the gates of the Monmouth Park Association, estimated by experts at between 20,000 and 25,000 persons, celebrated the glo-rious Fourth yesterday in becoming style. A gala programme had been arranged, and each of the seven races decided was full of interest. New York, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Newark. Philadelphia, and the many watering places along the New Jersey coast sent strong delegations to the mammoth track near Little Silver, and the vast grand stand seethed and bubbled with an outpouring of beauty that could be seen nowhere else, the men by common consent leaving the big structure to the women. Every train that rolled into the grounds was loaded to the steps, and the swift boats plying between New York and Atlantic Highlands never carried such throngs before. In short, it was a banner day for Monmouth and a day to make the followers of racing happy, as it showed most conclusively that the affections of the public, despite the overthrow of so many favorites for the great races of the year and the prevailing stringency in financial circles. Everything went off smoothly, and the earlier trains landed passengers in

New York by 7:15 o'clock.

There was more interest in the Fourth of July Handicap, perhaps, than in any other event, Lamplighter meeting a field of the fastest horses in training. The public could see nothing but Mr. Lorillard's four-year-old, and accepted even money and 6 to 5, never figuring for a moment how much weight Sirocco, Picknicker, and others were receiving from the son of Spendthrift. A few shrewd men, who have been watching Sirocco's form of late, and noting his ability to outsprint such horses as Kingston. were faithful to the Rancocas cast-off. and took 6 to 1 against the son of Emperor. There were numerous scratches, but Lamplighter, Sirocco, Aiax, Reckon, Promenade, Pick-nicker, Yorkville Belle, and Alonzo went to the post, making a field sufficient in number and quality to satisfy the most fastidious. Reckon was in a mood to make trouble at the post, and gyrated in a lively fashion for several minutes. but Mr. Rowe finally secured an even break and dropped his flag. Like a thunderbolt Sirocco crossed from the extreme outside to the inner rail, and in a furlong or so had opened a gap on the others. Ajax and Picknicker heading the field, with Lamplighter, who was slow to move and had to be whipped away, last. Sirocco's hoofs beat a merry rataplan as he sped down the hard path next the rail, and at the end of half a mile he was three lengths before Ajax and Picknicker. while Yorkville Belle headed the stragglers. Simms was whipping Lamplighter in the en-deavor to overhaul the flying Sirocco, but he might as well have chased the storm of the desert from which the leader receives his name. Doggett letting him sail and making every post a winner. Ajax and Picknicker were the only ones capable of keeping near Sirocco, and they chased him over the line fighting head and head for second money. Fox, by some wonderful process, succeeding in getting Ajax's head in front of Picknicker's and keeping it there long enough to secure second place. Four lengths away came Lamplighter, with Reckon fifth and Yorkville Belle sixth. The winner is one of the speedlest horses seen in years. Some years ago he was sold by Mr. Pierre Lorillard, his breeder, to J. B. Collins for $2,500. At that time he had bad feet, but this season they don't seem to hurt him, and as a consequence Sirocco has placed twelve races to the credit of his owner, and has beaten the best horses in training at sprinting distances. A mile was thought to be a trifle beyond his compass, but he went the distance in good shape yesterday. After being taken to the paddock, Lamplighter, who had been hard ridden, was quite irritable, and neatched at Trainer John Huggins when he went up to him, tearing the firsh and nail from the index finger of the right hand. It made an ugly and painful wound, and Mr. Huggins will have a sore hand for some time to come. but this season they don't seem to hurt him.

With Dobbins out of the Independence Stakes, Declare looked like a winner but there was strong risy on the Rancocas filly Oulda and the Kentycky colt Discount, both being in receiot of considerable weight from the Dwyer representativa. Oulda is the filly that won a dash at half a mile at Morris Park, and so persistently was she supported that she ultimately became favorite. Declare went to the post piping hot, and when the start was made and Oulda tried to outrun him Simms found the half brother to Reclare could sprint some himself. Lamly kept Declare at the favorite's saddle for three furlongs or so, and when she began to hang he cut loose on his own account and won a good race with a lot in reserve. Discount, who had been third from the start, wanted to swerve at the finish, and Dougett only squeezed him home a short head before the Californian, Dorlan, the latter running very reeditably. Economist, a very handsome cott from the Blemton string, did not run up to his looks. Declare's race was a good one, and he commands the admiration of everybody by his extreme gameness and ability to handle weight. He would be a crack with Domino, Hyderabad, and Dobbins out of the way.

Withdrawals reduced the field for the Eatontown Stakes until but Raceland, Kilkenny, and Arab remained. This race has for years been famous for hard-fought battles, and yesterady's confest was no exception. Raceland was favorite at odds on, but the sturdy old warrior had a stern classe all the way. Arab, full of running, tore down the path, with Kilkenny, and Arab remained. This race has for years been famous for hard-fought battles, and yesterned was a confest was no exception. There were a number of good things in the sweepstakes for three-year-olds, integrity closing favorite, with Augusta Belle. Boche, and Midnight in about equal demand. Midnight and itoche made the pace warm until opposite the club house, when Mr. Kernsghan's filly, a daughter of that famous old brood mare Bertha B. came along and took the money. Roche beating Midnight rather cleverly for second place. The favorite is a good coit over the grass course, and like many other horses, prefers it to a dirt track. His form at Concy island was misleading.

Lyceum was depended upon by the talent to get them out of limbo in the final race, a selling affair at six furlongs. Estelle was second choice, with good odds against the others. Hamilton rode Lyceum and landed the big bay horse in front in clever fashion, with Mr. Sass second and Estelle, on whom Carter waited too long, third. When McCafferty had Estelle he let her die in front, and that seemed the proper course to pursue yeaterday.

Hamilton is a master on Monmouth's long stretches. He rode three winners yesterday. Most of the boys begin to ride too soon.

Bogus programmes of the races were sold on the boats and at the railroad depots in New York. Pinkerton will try to find the offenders. Bill Lovell and his boys were disappointed when the Pisa colt ran out on the turn. As far as he wenthe displayed a lot of speed for a 20 to 1 shot.

There is such a marked advantage on the rail nearest the spectators that President Walcott ordered the path ploughed up and made soft, the same as the rest of the course. Unless Mr. Lorillard changes his mind. Lamplighter will be sent to Chicago to start for the $25,000 Columbus Handleap, which will be run one week from Saturday.

doomore went to the front and won the purso by two lengths. Daly came fast in the last furlong and beat Inspector C, a length and a half for second place.

Biltzen was a hot favorite for the next race at 5 to 3 on, and the son of Blazes gave the talent their first fall of the day. In the homestretch Hill gave Harlem her head, and the Spendthrift filly shot to the front and won by a length and a half. Blitzen, ridden out, got the place by half a length from English Lady.

Rear Guard was backed heavily in the fourth race, at even money. Play or Pay got away in front and led to the finish, winning easily by a length and a half from Itemorse. Rear Guard linished six lengths behind Remorse.

Vagabond was the good thing in the fifth race. Balance and Laughing Water took turns at leading in the early part of the race, but died away when the struggle began at the upper turn, where Vagabond came to the front and won by two lengths from Airplant. Diekerson came third, ten lengths away.

Gold Dollar had a strong backing in the sixth race at even money. Sandowne made the running to the three-quarter-mile ple, where Major Daly went to the front and won as he pleased by six lengths. Sandowne beat Gold Dollar a half length for the place.

Twelve jumpers went to the poet in the Independence Stoenlechase Hamilican. St. Luke was the talent's choice, while there was a strong tip on Pat Oakley. Lilero was first away, and led the field once around the course, but was passed in the second lap at the length, and but for Donahue's error in thinking the race was two laps of a very ordinary start by half a dozen lengths, and but for Donahue's error in thinking the race was two laps of the ourse instead of three he should have finished first: but he had shot his bolt, and when challenged by St. Luke and leturn in the final circuit he could not respond. Return got the lead at the last hurdle by lapt for second money. Landseer, Farwell, and sway in the homestretch, winning a pretty race. St. Luke beat Pat Oakiey a half length for second money. Landseer, Farwell, and Sand Flea stumbled at the hurdles, throwing their riders, and were not in it at the finish. Considerable grumbling was heard after the race at Lynch's indifferent finish on St. Luke. Summary.

CHICAGO, July I.A. scod programme of seven races, including the rich Sheridan Stakes, worth $10,870 to the winner, at one mile and a quarter, was sufficient to draw an attendance of at least 20,000 persons to Washington Park this afternoon. The Sheridan Stakes is sort of a renewal of the American Derby. There were nine starters, as follows: Tyro, 115 (Blaylock): Enthusiast, 122 (R. Williams); Dave Vela, 122 (I. Murphy); Clifford. 125 (W. Martin); Adelbaran, 122 (J. Decaped was next in favor at 7 to 1, and Dave Vela at to 1. The odds against the others ranged from 15 to 200 to 1.

The race proved to be another surprise, Ingomar, against whose chances the odds were as good as 30 to 1, and whose owners, with the consent of the judges, changed Jockey Reagan for Thorpe, lodging a protest that they feared the former would not give them a ride feared the former would not give them a ride for the money, took the lead in the home run, and won easily by four lengths. Ed Cerrigan's Tyro was second, lapped out by Gifford, who harely bent the 50 to 1 shot, Adelbaren, a nose for third place. Time, 2:10. The fractional time of the race was: First quarter, 0:28; half mile, 0:53%; six furlongs, 1:10%; one mile, 1:45%; last quarter, where all the racing occurred, 0:24%. The winner is a son of Bubhler, by imported Buckden, out of a marchy imported Dainacardoch. Ingomar ran in the colors of the old Jordan stable, owned by Chinn & Morgan.

In the other races four of the six favorites were beaten, two of these events going to outsiders.

Eleven maiden two-year-olds started in the first race; five furlongs. Equator, a son of Ecuador, 101, 10 to 1 (Perkins) won under a drive by half a length from The Surgeon, a 20 to 1 chance. Springland was third. Time, 1:02%.

MEADVILLE, July 4.—A holiday crowd num-bering nearly ten thousand attended the opening of Meadville's summer meeting to-day. The kite-shaped track was lightning fast, and every heat winner of the day gained a new record below 2:20. Emoleta, Free, and Pansy record below 2:20. Emoleta, Free, and Fansy were fancied in the order named for the 2:24 stake for trotters, but the handsoms daughter of Almont, Jr., decidedly outclassed her opponents, and she won in impressive style, taking a record of 2:17%. Pansy finished first in every heat, but the judges act her back for a losing break at the wire in the third mile, giving Goldsmith's four-year-old Sabina a heat and a record her driver did not want. Emoleta proved to be stale and in poor form, and Free, while very fast, lacked the level head of a winner. Ollie R., a local trotter and a good one, drove the winner out in the last three heats of the race. The performance of Answer, a big larg golding by Ansel, that Marvín has driven in 2:12, proved a humiliating disappointment to the local crowd that made him a favorite over Florida and the field. A forpinght ago Anson met with an accident. He was sore and all off to-day, and in the second heat his standstill breaks left him away outside the distance. Florida proued an easy straight: heat winner in this race. She was never under a drive. The mare is from Montana, and she was driven to-day by Ben Rennedy, the young man who developed Nancy Hanks. Clara J., should have made a three-heat race of the 2:24 class for pacers. She clearly out-classed her field and would beat 2:15 with ease, but Curry hoped by waiting to win without taking a fast record, and so he made no effort until two heats had been paced. Fra Chimes, winner of the opening heat, the first in which he ever started, is a fast five-year-old from the stable of C. J. Hamilin, who also owns Pansy. Summaries:

THE LARCHMONT'S GREAT REGATTA. Over Fifty Yachts Take Part 1: One of the Best Races Ever Sailed On the Sound. What was probably the greatest yacht race ever seen on this side of the Atlantic took place on Long Island Sound yesterday when the Larchmont Yacht Club held their annual regatta. Over fifty of the fastest yachts in the country took part in the race, and the fact that quite a number of them were new added considerably to the fun.

For about the first time this year there was a breeze worth speaking of, and the race was a breeze worth speaking of, and the race was sailed in remarkably fast time. The courses for the various classes were as follows:

Course No. 1, for Classes A. B. C. 1, 2, 3, and 4-From Larchmont to and around a stake boat anchored in Hempsteat Harbor. Distance twenty-seven miles. Course No. 2, for Classes D. E. 5, 6, 8, 8 and 9-From Larchmont to and around a stake boat anchored in Hempstead harbor. Distance, twenty miles.

Course No. 3, for Classes 13, 14, 16, 14, and 17-From Larchmont to and around the red spar buoy on Scotch Caps Recf. Distance, ten miles.

Hempstead harber. Distance, twenty miles.
Course No. 3, for Classes 12, 14, 15, 14, and 17—From Larchmont to and around the red spar buoy on Scotch Caps Rest. Distance, ten miles.

After they rounded Hempstead they had the wind on their querter to Stamford. Coming back they had a close reach back to Hempstead and a little beat home to the finish line. The principal interest of the day, of course, centred in the performances of the new bonts, of which there were three, the Emerald, the Cary Smith schooner Eisle Marie, and the Serkara, the new Stewart and Binney boat which had come down from Boston to test her wings for the first time.

In addition to the above the Alexa was out for the first time this year, but for some reason the Lasca, the fastest boat in her class, went down to New York in the morning, and spoiled what should have been the best race of the year. The Dagmar, the old Titanin, was entered, but, although on hand, failed to cross the line, as did the Loyal. Another new boat which attracted a good deaf of attention, though not in the race, was Commodore Hill's new schooner Ariel.

One of the best performances of the day was the remarkable manner in which the Vator disposed of the boats in her felass. She not only defeated her old-time gival, the Azalea, which by the way, lost her glows, the improved Comet, and a host of other boats besides. She was cleverly handled as usual by her sportsmanlike young owner. W. Gould Brokaw.
